

A UDL Primer

All of the resources listed below are available on-line. While some are written resources and some are videos, if you are on a computer utilizing BCSC's network, you can use Read & Write Gold if you prefer to have the written information read to you.

What is UDL?

<http://www.udlcenter.org/aboutudl/whatisudl>

What is the concept behind UDL? (video included on page)

<http://www.udlcenter.org/aboutudl/whatisudl/conceptofudl>

What are the Three Principles? (video included on page)

<http://www.udlcenter.org/aboutudl/whatisudl/3principles>

Breaking down the principles (this is the front page. You will click through the different pages related to the different principles)

<http://www.udlcenter.org/aboutudl/udlguidelines>

UDL and the Curriculum (defines goals, methods, materials, and assessment)

<http://www.udlcenter.org/aboutudl/udlcurriculum>

What are expert learners?

<http://www.udlcenter.org/aboutudl/expertlearners>

UDL and Technology (CAST's thoughts on how technology and UDL intersect)

<http://www.udlcenter.org/aboutudl/udltechnology>

Additional resources and videos

<http://www.udlcenter.org/aboutudl/resources>

UDL at BCSC

UDL at BCSC (a 5 minute video on UDL and several posts about topics related to UDL at BCSC)

<http://bcscudl.pbworks.com>

The UDL webpages within the BCSC website (mixed media)

www.bcsc.k12.in.us/UDL

PBIS and UDL, ICT and UDL, and diversity issues and UDL (videos)

<http://www.bcsc.k12.in.us/page/346>